Join Our Research Study on Comics in Education!

Are you a teacher in civics and/or history who uses comics or graphic novels in your classroom? Whether it's a staple in your lesson plans or a creative addition on occasion, we need your insights!

Dr. Radu Harald Dinu and Dr. Joakim Öberg from Jönköping University's School of Education and Communication invite you to participate in a new research study titled "Teachers' Engagement with Social Justice and Democracy through Comic Art."

This study is a part of our ongoing project "EduComics - Promoting Action Competence and Social Change through Comic Art in Educational and Civil Society Settings" running from 2024-2025.

What's involved?

- Participate in an online focus group interview via Zoom.
- Each session lasts approximately 1 hour.
- Groups will consist of 3-6 participants.

Who can join?

Teachers at any level who teach civics and/or history and incorporate comics or graphic novels in their education.

Interested?

Please contact us by email before 30 June 2024 to express your interest:
